I. INTRODUCTION

- Amazon brings this case against an international fraud organization called REKK, which is responsible for stealing millions of dollars of products from Amazon's online stores through systematic refund abuse. Through this lawsuit, Amazon aims to expose Defendants' conspiracy and hold them accountable for their fraudulent activity.
- 2. Protecting customers and earning the trust of selling partners are core values at Amazon. Retail theft is a persistent problem that plagues online and physical retailers alike. One form of retail theft involves systematic refund fraud, which undermines Amazon's ability to efficiently serve customers and selling partners. Customers who shop in Amazon's online stores should be delighted with their purchases, and if they are not, they should be able to easily return the product. Amazon has built one of the most trusted brands in the world, in part based on its highly trusted customer service and refund process. Sophisticated fraudsters—like Defendants—exploit the refund process for their own financial gain. Their activity leaves retailers and honest consumers to bear the brunt of increased costs, decreased inventory, and poor return experiences.
- 3. Defendants are individuals from around the world who operate under the name "REKK." REKK is one of the largest organizations in an underground industry that offers fraudulent refunds to users. Among other places, REKK operates a Telegram channel that has over 30,000 followers, where they brazenly advertise refund services that they fully admit are fraudulent. In this scheme, bad actors who want a free product (like an iPad) pay REKK a fee (such as 30% of the product's cost) to obtain a fraudulent refund. REKK uses sophisticated methods to obtain the refund, including socially engineering Amazon customer service, phishing Amazon employees, manipulating Amazon's systems through unauthorized access, and bribing Amazon insiders to grant refunds. The Defendants' scheme tricks Amazon into processing refunds for products that are never returned; instead of returning the products as promised, Defendants keep the product and the refund. REKK boasts that the organization has fraudulently refunded over 100,000 orders from retailers (not just Amazon). Defendants in this case include REKK's operators, certain egregious REKK users, and former Amazon employees REKK bribed to facilitate refunds. Together, they conspired to defraud Amazon and should be held to account for the significant harm caused to retailers and consumers. II. PARTIES A. Amazon Plaintiffs 4. ## III. JURISDICTION

- 37. The Court has subject matter jurisdiction over Amazon's federal claims for trademark infringement (15 U.S.C. § 1114), and violations of Section 43(a) of the Lanham Act (15 U.S.C. § 1125(a)), under 15 U.S.C. § 1121, 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331 and 1338(a).
- 38. The Court has ancillary subject matter jurisdiction over Amazon's common law claims for fraudulent misrepresentation, negligent misrepresentation, conversion, unjust enrichment, breach of contract, and civil conspiracy because they are substantially related to the federal claims.
- 39. The Court also has diversity jurisdiction over Amazon's claims against the Defendants under 28 U.S.C. § 1332 because the matter in controversy exceeds $75,000 and is between citizens of different states.
- 40. The REKK Operator Defendants and REKK User Defendants have consented to the exclusive jurisdiction of this Court by agreeing to the Amazon Conditions of Use ("COU"), which provides that any dispute or claim relating in any way to accessing or shopping at Amazon.com will be adjudicated in the state or federal courts in King County, Washington.
- 41. The Court has personal jurisdiction over the Defendants because they each transacted business and committed tortious acts within and directed to this District at all times material to the allegations herein. Amazon's claims arise from those activities and Defendants harmed Amazon, which resides in this District. The REKK Operator Defendants and REKK User Defendants affirmatively undertook to do business with Amazon, and the principal place of business for Amazon.com, Inc., Amazon.com Services LLC, and Amazon Technologies, Inc., is in Seattle, Washington. The REKK Operator Defendants and the REKK User Defendants established a binding and enforceable contract with Amazon.com Services LLC by consenting to Amazon's COU. Further, the REKK Operator Defendants, by accessing the REKK User Defendants' Amazon accounts as part of the scheme, also established a binding and enforceable contract with Amazon.com Services LLC. The Amazon Insider Defendants are employed by Amazon.com Services LLC, which has its principal place of business in Seattle, Washington.

- 42. The Court also has personal jurisdiction over the Defendants under 18 U.S.C. § 1965(b) because the Defendants have sufficient minimum contacts with the United States and Amazon's claims arise from those contacts.
- 43. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. § 1391(b) because a substantial part of the events giving rise to the claims occurred in the District. Venue is also proper in this Court because the REKK User Defendants and REKK Operator Defendants consented to it under the COU.
- 44. Intra-district assignment to the Seattle Division is proper because the claims arose in this Division, where (a) Amazon resides, (b) injuries giving rise to suit occurred, and (c) Defendants directed their unlawful conduct. See Local Civil Rule 3(e).

IV. FACTS

A. Amazon Product Returns

- 45. Amazon is a highly trusted brand enjoyed by customers around the world as a store for products and services. One of Amazon's most popular features is its user-friendly order and return policies.
- 46. Amazon fulfills customer orders by retrieving the product from its source location (such as an Amazon fulfillment center) and shipping the product to the customer's location using Amazon's own shipping services, the U.S. Postal Service ("USPS"), or a common carrier (e.g., UPS, FedEx, DHL, etc.).
- 47. Customers can initiate a product return to Amazon by contacting Amazon through a variety of methods, including on Amazon's mobile app, emailing, conducting an online chat session, completing an online form, or calling customer service. Once a return request is processed, customers receive a shipping label to send the product back to Amazon. Refunds are generally credited to the payment method (typically a credit or debit card) connected to the customers' accounts. If a customer fails to return the product, Amazon may refuse to grant a refund or rebill the customer for the product.

- 48. In addition to obtaining a refund through a product return, Amazon allows customers to request a refund for products that are not delivered, or arrive damaged, inoperable, or deficient in some other way. If the refund request is granted by Amazon, the order amount is credited back to the customer using the payment method associated with the customer's account.
- 49. There is no fee to obtain a refund from Amazon and Amazon offers robust customer support to aid in the refund process.

B. Refund Fraud as a Service

- 50. Genuine refunds are a standard and expected component of the retail industry. Amazon customers should be delighted with their purchases, and they should have the ability to easily return a product if they are not.
- 51. Unfortunately, fraudsters exploit the refund process for their own financial gain to the detriment of honest consumers and retailers who must bear the brunt of increased costs, decreased inventory, and service disruption that impacts genuine customers. Refund fraud affects the entire retail industry, including physical and online retailers alike.
- 52. Some fraudsters—like Defendants—have created organized operations to systematically defraud retailers at scale. These operations, such as REKK, have created illegitimate "businesses" offering fraudulent refunds to individuals around the world who are knowingly engaging with and participating in the fraud in order to receive expensive electronics and other products for free. These fraudulent schemes operate as an underground industry that enables a multitude of bad actors to conspire to take part in (and benefit from) sophisticated fraudulent activity.
- 53. These organized refund fraudsters brazenly advertise their services across numerous forums and social media channels—competing against each other to partner with other bad actors to grow their organization. Among other tactics, they post user testimonials on messaging channels demonstrating the success of the operation. These user testimonial posts are referred to as "vouches." The following is a sample vouch bragging about a $19,000 Amazon theft posted on REKK's channel:

C. Amazon's Efforts to Stop Fraudulent Refund Schemes

54. Amazon has taken considerable measures to combat organized theft, fraud, and abuse—including return fraud. In 2022 alone, Amazon spent $1.2 billion and employed over 15,000 people to fight theft, fraud, and abuse across its stores. Amazon uses sophisticated machine learning ("ML") models to proactively detect and prevent fraud. It also employs investigators to manually review activity to prevent fraud. When fraud is detected, Amazon takes a variety of measures to stop the activity, including warning customers against continued activity, closing accounts, and preventing customers who engaged in refund fraud from opening new accounts.

- 55. Further, Amazon has specialized teams that detect, investigate, and stop the most egregious fraud driving increased costs and disruption to services for genuine customers. These teams work around the world to aggregate fraud activity and attribute the activity to specific criminals. This work feeds direct action against the bad actors.
- 56. Amazon's Customer Protection & Enforcement team ("CPE") works to combat external threats that harm customers, partners, and Amazon. Comprised of attorneys, former prosecutors, and expert analysts, CPE investigates and stops organized crime schemes affecting customers, partners, and Amazon—including refund fraud like this case. CPE takes direct legal action against the bad actors responsible for the harm, including working with law enforcement around the world to hold the bad actors accountable.
- 57. As part of its efforts to combat refund fraud, CPE has taken direct action and supported law enforcement action against the bad actors responsible for numerous refund fraud schemes, resulting in arrests as well as criminal and civil damages. Amazon continues to investigate and take action against refund fraud schemes—like the one Defendants operate.

D. The REKK Operator Defendants' Role in the Fraudulent Scheme

- Among other places, the REKK Operator Defendants use the Telegram accounts "@refundingclub," "@rekks," "@rekksupport," and "@rekkvouches" to advertise their services and interact with people seeking to obtain fraudulent refunds from Amazon. The REKK Operator Defendants also advertise their services and interact with people seeking fraudulent refunds on Nulled (under username "rekk"), Reddit (under username "rekksalt" and subreddit "r/REKKRefundService"), and Discord (under username "rekk#5319").
- 59. REKK's primary Telegram channel, "@refundingclub," advertises its page as "REKK Refund Service" and had 35,644 subscribers as of December 5, 2023. The channel was created on November 14, 2019, and started advertising its services in January 2021. The following is a screenshot of the channel information:

The following are two posts in which REKK advertises completing over "100k+ orders," servicing "33000+ customers," offering "worldwide refunds," and earning a "profit" from a "very wide selection of stores" and boasting they are "the strongest in our field."

62. REKK's subreddit "REKKRefundService" similarly describes the services that REKK offers and explains in a detailed question-and-answer format how REKK operates. The following are posts in which REKK advertises that "[t]he REKK Refunding Service uses methods that guarantee your money will be refunded to you every single time," REKK has a "large user list of over +33,000 Customers," and also has "over +100,000 orders, and over +10,000 vouches on [REKK's] telegram group." REKK clearly describes to prospective users what their service offers: "refunding is when you buy a product and then trick the company into thinking you have returned the product."

The Best And Only Refunding Service You'll Ever Need

Refunding as a service is something that's been around for years.

let me just tell you right now exactly what you want to know: It IS real and it DOES work. However, I've seen quite a few scammers on sites like Reddit selling their "*services.*" These people charge money up front and run away with your hard earned cash, leaving you poor.

I do not do this. I provide the service first and THEN ask for payment.

To prove to you I am legit, I'm going to explain a few popular methods that have been used in the past as well as why these methods no longer work. There are still some scammers out there who claim that these methods do work, but there is a very high amount of risk. Risks such as being rebilled, your account(s) being flagged, your account(s) being deleted, or in the worst case scenario, legal issues.

Q: What Is The Rekk Refunding Service?

A: To put it simply, refunding is when you buy a product and then trick the company into thinking you have returned the product. Whether you trick the company into thinking you did not receive the item, complain the item is broken or pretend you did send it back, these are all methods people use to refund. However, their success rate has gone down a lot in recent years. Especially after the Covid pandemic when more and more people began to order online. The Rekk Refunding Service uses methods that guarantee your money will be refunded to you every single time. Check the telegram for which stores are currently available.

Q: Does It Work?

A: My services guarantee zero risk to the customer. If you don't believe me, you can join my telegram and view the countless vouches I have from satisfactory customers.

Q: Will I Be Safe?

A: Yes. If my services were unsafe, I would not have such a large client list of over +33,000 Customers, over +100,000 orders, and over +10,000 vouches on my telegram group. Be sure to let me know you came from Reddit:)

63. Another pinned post on REKK's Telegram channel links to REKK's "store list," which provides instructions on REKK's refunding service, its fee (the minimum order fee is $100) and instructs customers to contact REKK before placing an order. REKK even provides prospective customers a list of the stores it targets for refund fraud and other details about its fraud service, with the portion relevant to Amazon in the below screenshot:

- 65. REKK capitalizes on Amazon's reputation and goodwill by using Amazon's trademarks to help generate initial interest in REKK's refund fraud services. Amazon customers may be drawn to REKK's channels under the initial impression that REKK offers legitimate return services, which are detailed directly underneath Amazon's logo. As Amazon customers continue navigating REKK's channels, however, the illegal nature of its services become more apparent, and REKK benefits from the attention raised by the use of Amazon's trademarks.
- 66. REKK charges its users a 30 or 35% fee for Amazon refunds, and an additional 5% fee if the user pays via PayPal.
- 67. REKK's users begin by placing an order directly from a retailer, like Amazon. Once an order is placed, REKK users are directed to complete a "service form" located at URL https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScONJZGAWL5FaJZ-0hunEy58YQTR8E9WmKl Umbd1vs4hI_Ecw/viewform. - 69. Once REKK is engaged, REKK contacts users to arrange for 50 percent of the service fee to be paid in advance. REKK then employs one of the following fraudulent measures to obtain refunds for their users:
  - a. Social engineering: Users provide their Amazon login credentials to REKK, and REKK then contacts Amazon customer service posing as the user. REKK provides false information to manipulate the customer service associate to grant their users a refund.
  - b. Amazon systems manipulation: REKK has gained unauthorized access to Amazon's systems used in the genuine workflow to return and refund products. Among other tactics, REKK has sent (or caused to be sent) phishing messages to Amazon employees to obtain Amazon credentials. Through this unlawful access, REKK has processed fraudulent refunds.
  - c. Insider bribery: REKK identifies and recruits Amazon employees responsible for approving genuine returns. REKK then bribes these employees to falsely approve unreturned orders as returned.

d. Materially different returns: REKK requests refunds for products and REKK or its users return packages to Amazon that are empty or contain low value items different than the original product for which the users were issued refunds. These fake returns are designed to deceive Amazon's systems into believing the Defendants returned the correct item.

70. In employing the various fraud schemes detailed in the preceding paragraph, the REKK Operator Defendants act in concert with the REKK User Defendants and the Amazon Insider Defendants to circumvent Amazon's controls to prevent refund fraud. Defendants' scheme has caused Amazon to provide millions of dollars in refunds for products that are not returned. Amazon has also incurred significant customer support costs to process the fraudulent refunds in an amount to be determined and substantial expenses in excess of $75,000 to investigate Defendants' fraudulent activities.

E. Amazon Verification of REKK's Fraudulent Services

- 71. An investigator working for Amazon's outside counsel placed an order on Amazon.com for a 2021 Apple 12.9-inch iPad Pro (Wi-Fi 2 B) Space Gray to be shipped to an address in the U.S.
- 72. Amazon charged the investigator $2,066.99, including fees and taxes, and provided the investigator with an order number and UPS tracking number.
- 73. Soon after, the investigator navigated to REKK's Telegram channel (@refundingclub) and completed REKK's service request form, which included providing REKK with the order, tracking number, and a brief statement that the product had not yet been received.
- 74. Through Telegram, REKK responded stating that the fees were "25% BTC 30% PP So half 15% if PayPal upfront $309." The investigator paid $309 to REKK via PayPal and received a confirmation from PayPal that the payment went to an account registered to the email address terrykase2433@gmail.com. - 76. After payment, REKK stated that the refund would be issued in 48 to 72 hours. The investigator then noted that Amazon.com had issued a refund in the amount of $2,066.99 and provided a statement "Return in transit." A partial screenshot of the investigator's Amazon account is provided below:

78. REKK provided the investigator with the following "BTCPay" URL to complete his remaining payment via Bitcoin: https://hermespay.org/payment-requests/9b10f6c6-b738-4a23-bab4-6f34652fdb6b. The page showed a payment request for $516.00 and username @cptam00. When the investigator clicked the "pay invoice" button that appeared on the website, he was directed to BTCPay. The BTCPay page provided the name "refund.one" for REKK and displayed wallet address bc1qgvn42wsxdxue3e7kdzklqy25zvyq5a5qx4yqq6. The investigator completed payment of 0.01706717 BTC to the listed wallet address. Five days later, the wallet subsequently sent the payment of 0.01706717 BTC to another wallet address: 1HoAnAjC7WuXtAVCajBh4jQVVJwaiDRGt.

F. The REKK User Defendants' Role in the Fraudulent Scheme

- 80. Each of the twenty known REKK User Defendants played a critical role in conspiring to defraud Amazon. Each Defendant sought out REKK based on its extensive web presence promoting its fraudulent conduct, engaged and conspired with REKK for the purposes of obtaining one or more free products from Amazon, and then actively promoted REKK's success online to expand the scheme's reach.
- 81. The REKK User Defendants each engaged in the following conduct in furtherance of their role in the fraudulent scheme:
  - a. They each subscribe to or monitor REKK's online presence, including the REKK Telegram channel, and therefore, each saw REKK's clear statements that it was engaged in a fraudulent refund scheme.
  - b. They each placed one or more orders from Amazon for products with the intent to commit refund fraud using REKK's refund fraud services.
  - c. Conspiring with REKK, they requested and received refunds from Amazon for those products using one of REKK's fraudulent methods described above. Specific examples of each Defendant's fraudulent activity in connection with REKK is detailed in Exhibit A to this Complaint and incorporated within the allegations of this Complaint.
  - d. They each also obtained other fraudulent concessions from Amazon without the assistance of REKK. Each fraudulent concession was obtained through material misstatements or omissions to Amazon that resulted in each Defendant obtaining free products from Amazon.
  - e. They each agreed to the Amazon COU which provides that anyone shopping at Amazon (1) may not misuse the Amazon Services; (2) may use those services

- "only as permitted by law;" and (3) agrees to accept responsibility for all activities that occur under their account or password.
- They each provided one or more vouches for REKK's fraudulent refund service that REKK used to solicit new members to join the conspiracy to expand its fraudulent activity.
- 82. As an example, Defendant Andrew Ling placed an Amazon order for five Apple iPads, causing the products to be shipped via Amazon Logistics. After receiving the products, Ling engaged REKK to receive a fraudulent refund of the products. REKK then used a phishing attack against an Amazon fulfillment center associate to manipulate Amazon's systems to show that all five of Ling's iPads were returned (when none were). As a result, Ling and REKK stole five iPads and REKK received hundreds of dollars for facilitating the fraud.
- 83. As another example, Defendant Jenny Tran placed an Amazon order for two Apple MacBook Air laptops over the internet, causing the products to be shipped via Amazon Logistics. After receiving the products, Jenny Tran engaged REKK to receive a fraudulent refund of the products. REKK and Tran falsely claimed that the products were never received, and they even provided a falsified police report to show that the product was not received. As a result, Tran and REKK stole two MacBook laptops and REKK received hundreds of dollars for facilitating the fraud.

G. The Amazon Insider Defendants' Role in the Fraudulent Scheme

84. REKK identifies and recruits Amazon employees to join its scheme. REKK recruits these insiders on Reddit, LinkedIn, or directly on its Telegram channel. The following is a post from the Telegram channel recruiting Amazon insiders:

85. As set forth in the Parties section above, the Amazon Insider Defendants consist of the following seven individuals: Oscar Pineda, Janiyah Alford, Noah Page, William Walsh, Luke Colvin, Skylar Robinson, and Alejandro Taveras. The Amazon Insider Defendants were formerly Amazon employees responsible for approving product returns. Each worked in Amazon's operations organization, which is responsible for handling product returns. Together, the seven Amazon Insider Defendants provided over $500,000 worth of fraudulent returns to REKK and its users.

86. The Amazon Insider Defendants—in exchange for payments—conspired and acted in concert with the REKK Operator Defendants to approve fraudulent product returns. Detailed allegations as to the conduct of each Amazon Insider Defendant are contained in Exhibit B and incorporated within the allegations of this Complaint.

87. As an example, Janiyah Alford began her employment with Amazon as a fulfillment center associate in Chattanooga, Tennessee in January 2023. REKK recruited Alford to facilitate returns fraud and Alford agreed to approve customer returns for products that were not in fact returned. The following are partial screenshots of two of Alford's SMS conversations with REKK:

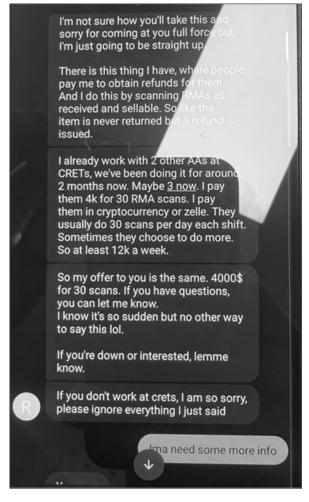

Saturday 13:21 do you work at crets? I'll just get straight to the point. There is this thing I have, where people pay me to obtain refunds for them. And I do this by scanning RMAs as received and sellable. So like the item is never returned but a refund is issued. I actually work with 2 other people at CRETs, we've been doing it for around 3 months now. I pay them 3k for 30 RMA scans. I pay them in cryptocurrency or zelle. They usually do 30 scans per day each shift. So my offer to you is the same. 3000¿ for 30 scans or ¿100 per scan, you can choose to do more or less. If you have questions, you can let me know. wait huh ?! 🙈 🙈

Between February and May 2023, Alford fraudulently approved product returns for 76 orders at REKK's request, causing Amazon to refund over $100,000 to REKK users. REKK paid Alford a total of $3,500 for her participation in the fraudulent scheme. One such order that Alford fraudulently approved as returned was that of REKK User Defendant, Zoha Ahmed.

88. As another example, Noah Page began his employment with Amazon as a fulfillment center associate in Chattanooga, Tennessee in January 2023. REKK recruited Page to facilitate returns fraud and Page agreed to approve customer returns for products that were not in fact returned. Below is a screenshot of the initial exchange between REKK and Page:

In April 2023, Page fraudulently approved product returns for 56 orders, causing Amazon to refund over $75,000 to REKK users. On information and belief, REKK paid Page more than $5,000 for his participation in the fraudulent scheme.

H. Amazon's Intellectual Property

89. Amazon exclusively owns numerous U.S. trademark registrations and pending applications. These trademarks are a critical component of consumers' ability to readily identify Amazon products and services—including genuine product return and refund services.

90. The following trademarks and service marks (collectively "Amazon Trademarks") were unlawfully used to further Defendants' scheme:

8	(Against All Defendants)
9	92. Amazon incorporates by reference the factual allegations contained in Sections I–
10	IV as though set forth herein.
11	93. The REKK Operator Defendants, REKK User Defendants, and Amazon Insider
12	Defendants entered into an agreement to deprive and did deprive Amazon through the
13	exploitation of Amazon's return services, with the intent to injure Amazon and its business.
14	94. The REKK User Defendants agreed to engage in the fraudulent refund scheme
15	orchestrated by the REKK Operator Defendants and the Amazon Insider Defendants when they
16	completed the "service form" hosted on REKK's Telegram channel.
17	95. On information and belief, the REKK User Defendants were aware of each
18	other's involvement through shared participation in the same Telegram channels and through
19	awareness from the vouches posted in the Telegram channels.
20	96. The REKK User Defendants helped to further the fraudulent refund scheme by
21	sharing information regarding successful fraudulent refunds through vouches posted to the
22	Telegram channels, which were available to other users. The REKK User Defendants also
23	furthered the fraudulent refund scheme by agreeing to share a portion of the fraudulent refunds
24	with the REKK Operator Defendants, thereby funding the fraudulent refund scheme.
25	97. The Amazon Insider Defendants agreed to engage in the fraudulent refund
26	scheme by: (1) engaging with the REKK Operator Defendants and agreeing to accept payment in 27

1	exchange for approving fraudulent returns; (2) approving fraudulent returns for the REKK User
2	Defendants; and (3) on information and belief, accepting payment from the REKK Operator
3	Defendants.
4	98. On information and belief, upon completing the "service form" and engaging with
5	the REKK Operator Defendants and the Amazon Insider Defendants regarding the logistics
6	behind the refunding scheme, the REKK User Defendants knew that the refund scheme was
7	fraudulent and not a legitimate method of obtaining Amazon replacement products and refunds.
8	99. On information and belief, upon engaging with the REKK Operator Defendants
9	regarding the logistics behind the refunding scheme and accepting payment from the REKK
10	Operator Defendants in exchange for approving fraudulent returns, the Amazon Insider
11	Defendants knew that it was a fraudulent scheme.
12	100. As a result of the REKK Operator Defendants, REKK User Defendants, and
13	Amazon Insider Defendants' deception, Amazon approved fraudulent refunds, sent replacement
14	products, and spent numerous resources through its customer support channels that it would not
15	have otherwise. If Amazon had known of the fraudulent activity carried out by the fraudulent
16	scheme, Amazon would not have issued refunds, sent replacement products, or spent numerous
17	resources through its customer support channels. The REKK Operator Defendants, REKK User
18	Defendants, and Amazon Insider Defendants have therefore been unjustly enriched and Amazon
19	has suffered damage.

SIXTH CAUSE OF ACTION

In the alternative, Breach of Contract

(Against the REKK Operator Defendants and the REKK User Defendants)

- 135. Amazon incorporates by reference the factual allegations contained in Sections I– IV as though set forth herein.
- 136. The REKK User Defendants entered into Amazon's COU by way of creating their Amazon account or placing orders as described in Section IV.F and Exhibit A. The REKK User Defendants established a binding and enforceable contract with Amazon and have therefore accepted and at all relevant times were bound by Amazon's COU.
- 137. The REKK Operator Defendants, by accessing the REKK User Defendants' Amazon accounts as part of their fraudulent scheme, also established a binding and enforceable contract with Amazon and have therefore accepted and at all relevant times were bound by Amazon's COU.
- 138. Amazon fully performed all of its obligations under the COU with the REKK Operator Defendants and the REKK User Defendants or was excused from doing so.
- 139. The REKK Operator Defendants materially breached the COU by, among other actions: (1) accessing the REKK User Defendants' accounts; and (2) circumventing Amazon's policies and procedures concerning order refunds and replacements.
- 140. The REKK User Defendants materially breached the COU by, among other actions: (1) misusing Amazon Services; and (2) circumventing Amazon's policies and procedures concerning order refunds and replacements.
- 141. By allowing the REKK Operator Defendants to access their accounts, the REKK User Defendants are also responsible for all activities that occurred under their account or password per the terms of the COU, as described in Section IV.

142. The REKK Operator Defendants and the REKK User Defendants' breaches have caused significant harm to Amazon, and Amazon is entitled to damages in an amount to be determined.

SEVENTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Trademark Infringement (15 U.S.C. § 1114)

(Against the REKK Operator Defendants)

- 143. Amazon incorporates by reference the factual allegations contained in Sections I– IV as though set forth herein.
  - 144. The REKK Operator Defendants' activities infringe the Amazon Trademarks.
- 145. Amazon advertises, markets, and distributes its products and services using the Amazon Trademarks, and uses them to distinguish their products and services from the products and services of others in the same or related fields.
- 146. Because of Amazon's long, continuous, and exclusive use of the Amazon Trademarks, the Amazon Trademarks have come to mean—and are understood by customers, users, and the public to signify—products and services from Amazon.
- 147. The REKK Operator Defendants use the Amazon Trademarks in commerce in a manner that is intended or likely to cause, at least initially, confusion, mistake, or deception as to source, origin, or authenticity of the REKK's Telegram channel, REKK's Telegram posts, and REKK's purported services.
- 148. Further, the REKK Operator Defendants' activities are likely to lead Amazon's customers to incorrectly believe, at least initially, that REKK's Telegram channel, REKK's Telegram posts, and REKK's purported services originate with or are authorized by Amazon, thereby harming Amazon.
- 149. At a minimum, the REKK Operator Defendants acted with willful blindness to, or in reckless disregard of, their lack of authority to use the Amazon Trademarks and the confusion that the use of the Amazon Trademarks had on consumers as to the source, sponsorship, affiliation, or approval by Amazon of the services purportedly provided by REKK Operator Defendants.

- 150. The REKK Operator Defendants are subject to liability, jointly and severally, for the wrongful conduct alleged herein, both directly and under various principles of secondary liability, including without limitation, respondent superior, vicarious liability, and/or contributory infringement.
- Amazon Trademarks, as well as false and misleading statements about or related to Amazon in connection with REKK's commercial advertising or promotion. Examples of the date, time, and manner of REKK Operator Defendants' false and misleading statements about or related to Amazon are identified in Section IV.E, such as the use of Amazon's logos posted on Telegram above an advertisement stating that the REKK Operator Defendants provide "AMAZON.COM fast refunds."
- 152. The REKK Operator Defendants have used the Amazon Trademarks to cause confusion, mistakes, or to deceive customers. On information and belief, the REKK Operator Defendants' conduct initially misleads and confuses Amazon customers as to the authenticity of the services advertised, marketed, or offered in connection with Amazon Trademarks, diverting them from Amazon's genuine return process. For example, Amazon customers may initially believe the REKK Operator Defendants offer legitimate Amazon refund services after reading the statement that the REKK Operator Defendants provide "AMAZON.COM fast refunds."
- 153. The REKK Operator Defendants' acts constitute willful false statements in connection with goods and/or services distributed in interstate commerce, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a).
- 154. As a result of the REKK Operator Defendants' wrongful conduct, Amazon is entitled to recover its actual damages, the REKK Operator Defendants' profits attributable to the infringement, and treble damages and attorneys' fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117(a)–(b). The amount of money due from the REKK Operator Defendants to Amazon is unknown to Amazon and cannot be ascertained without a detailed accounting. Alternatively, Amazon is entitled to statutory damages under 15 U.S.C. § 1117(c).

155. Amazon is further entitled to injunctive relief, as set forth in the Prayer for Relief below. Amazon has no adequate remedy at law for the REKK Operator Defendants' wrongful conduct because, among other things: (a) the Amazon Trademarks are unique and valuable property; (b) the REKK Operator Defendants' infringement constitutes harm to Amazon's reputation and goodwill such that Amazon could not be made whole by any monetary award; (c) if the REKK Operator Defendants' wrongful conduct is allowed to continue, the public is likely to become further confused, mistaken, or deceived as to the source, origin, or authenticity of the services being offered by REKK's Telegram channel and posts; and (d) the REKK Operator Defendants' wrongful conduct, and the resulting harm to Amazon, is continuing.

EIGHTH CAUSE OF ACTION

False Designation of Origin, Sponsorship, Approval, or Association, and False Advertising

(15 U.S.C. § 1125(a))

(Against the REKK Operator Defendants)

- 156. Amazon incorporates by reference the factual allegations contained in Sections I– IV as though set forth herein.
- 157. Amazon advertises, markets, and distributes its products and services using the Amazon Trademarks, and it uses these trademarks to distinguish its products and services from the products and services of others in the same or related fields.
- 158. Because of Amazon's long, continuous, and exclusive use of the Amazon Trademarks, they have come to mean, and are understood by customers, end users, and the public to signify products and services from Amazon.
- 159. Amazon has also designed distinctive and aesthetically pleasing displays, logos, icons, and graphic images (collectively, "Amazon designs") for its websites.

- 160. The REKK Operator Defendants' wrongful conduct includes the use of the Amazon Trademarks, Amazon's name, or imitation designs (specifically displays, logos, icons, and/or graphic designs virtually indistinguishable from the Amazon designs), and false statements regarding Amazon and its products or services in connection with the REKK Operator Defendants' commercial advertising or promotion. Examples of the date, time, and manner of REKK Operator Defendants' false and misleading statements about or related to Amazon are identified in Section IV.C, such as the use of Amazon's logos posted on Telegram above an advertisement that the REKK Operator Defendants provide "AMAZON.COM fast refunds."
- 161. The REKK Operator Defendants have used the Amazon Trademarks, Amazon's name, and/or imitation designs in a manner that is intended or likely to cause confusion, to cause a mistake, or to deceive customers. On information and belief, the REKK Operator Defendants wrongful conduct initially misleads and confuses Amazon customers as to the origin, approval of, and authenticity of the goods and services advertised, marketed, offered, or distributed in connection with Amazon's Trademarks, name, and imitation visual designs, and wrongfully trades upon Amazon's goodwill and business reputation.
- 162. The REKK Operator Defendants' acts constitute willful false statements in connection with goods and/or services distributed in interstate commerce, in violation of 15 U.S.C. § 1125(a).
- 163. The REKK Operator Defendants are subject to liability for the wrongful conduct alleged herein, both directly and under various principles of secondary liability, including without limitation, respondent superior, vicarious liability, and/or contributory infringement.
- 164. Amazon is further entitled to injunctive relief, as set forth in the Prayer for Relief below. The REKK Operator Defendants' acts have caused irreparable injury to Amazon. The injury to Amazon is and continues to be ongoing and irreparable. An award of monetary damages cannot fully compensate Amazon for its injuries, and Amazon lacks an adequate remedy at law.

165. As a result of the REKK Operator Defendants' wrongful conduct, Amazon is entitled to recover its actual damages, the REKK Operator Defendants' profits, and treble damages and attorneys' fees pursuant to 15 U.S.C. § 1117(a)–(b). The amount of money due to Amazon is unknown and cannot be ascertained without a detailed accounting by the REKK Operator Defendants.
